One thing that hurts the army of office-seekers is that one is taken and the other left. They all want to be taken.

It is unfortunate that Osgood & Co. will never engage in the publishing business again. The assets fall nearly $100,000 short of their liabilities.

Congressman Joe Rankin says that General Bragg's influence with the administration "doesn't amount to a pinch of snuff." This would seem to be about the size of it, as Bragg has not got a single office yet for anyone.

After the first day of July next the rates of postage in the United States will be lower than in any country using the postal system. After that time, under the new law of congress, the rate will be 2 cents for each ounce or fraction thereof, instead of a half ounce, as at present.

The bill before the Michigan legislature to restore hanging for murder has been defeated. Mr. Lincoln once said that hanging did not seem to do a man any good and therefore was a bad system of punishment. Quite a large majority of the members of the Michigan legislature hold the same opinion of hanging.

The democratic editor of the La Crosse Chronicle, who has been energetically groomed for some appointment, has not been appointed, and therefore with malice and bitterness does he speak of the administration. A little office would probably make him scratch 'the administration on the back.

The Waterbury American, which was ever-zealous as a mugwump paper during the campaign, makes the following remark: "A few years from now he (Mr. Vilas) would cut off his own nose sooner than write such a confidential letter; and if he should write such a one after that length of experience, he deserves to have his head cut off".

It is reported that the Hon. Charles G. Williams has tendered his resignation as register of the land office at Watertown, Dakota, to take effect on the first of next October. The reason which induces Mr. Williams to take this course is that he deems it proper that a position of that importance should be occupied by a supporter of the administration.

Probably the happiest woman in the United States to-day is Mrs. John A. Logan; and the best pleased community in the country is that of Washington. She is a great favorite in that city, her social power being well nigh supreme. The fact that she will have another reign of six years, put the social side of Washington in high glee, and in this rejoicing all party lines were wiped out.

Judge Gresham seems to have a good deal of tender feeling for Mackin and Galagher, the ballot thieves and stuffers of Chicago. He and Judge Harlan not being able to agree, the case will be taken to the United States supreme court and herein will be a very forcible illustration of the law's delay. Other cases against these criminals will come up in the state courts in a few days, and there may yet be hope that they will be justly punished.

A clergyman of St. Louis says that the aggregate church attendance in that city on Sunday is 10,000, while on a recent Sunday, 40,000 people witnessed a cowboy exhibition; 20,000 attended baseball games; 20,000 spent the day in beer gardens, 5,000 heard "Bob" Ingersoll. We think we would strike the nail squarely on the head by guessing that that "clergyman" is no clergyman at all, or if he is, the dyspepsia has robbed him of his reason and that like a few others, he thinks the world is going to the bad.

At a temperance meeting in Pittsburg the other day, an old toper told Mr. Francis Murphy that he was willing to swear off, but wanted to take one more drink first. The lecturer not only let him go, but gave him money to buy the drink. The toper came back and signed the pledge according to promise. This may be condemned in Mr. Murphy by some temperance people, and it may seem a queer thing to do, but it is his way of drawing men to him, and in his peculiar manner o working, he has been the most successful temperance apostle of this century.

Announcement is made that the state board of health will, within a few days issue a pamphlet on the duty of citizens and local health boards in measures of prevention against cholera and other contagious diseases. It is an elaborate and carefully-written paper, in the simplest possible language, and should be in the hands of every householder in the state. Any citizen of Wisconsin desiring copies for themselves or for gratuitous distribution can obtain them without charge upon application to Dr. J. T. Reeve, secretary of the board, at Appleton.

"The lynching of a man accused of murder, the indiscriminate encounter of three brothers of one family with three brothers of another, the murder of a girl by her lover and his subsequent suicide, and the gross misconduct of an editor who spat in the face of an attorney-general during a session of court, are among the little episodes reported yesterday as having enlivened the sunny south." This condition of things seems to be about the regular weekly installment of southern news. It has been remarked with considerable point that while the south wants offices, it needs a good missionary force among the people.

Strikes nearly always strike the workingman hard. The 1,800 men of the North Chicago rolling mill, who struck for an advance of 25 cents per day in these times of prostration, have lost seven weeks' work and wages, have learned that the owners had kept the mill running at the old wages without any profit only in order to give the men something to do, and have finally gone back to work at the old wages. The men have simply thrown away $125,000; happy for them if the experience gained is worth that much. It is the same old story which is repeated at almost every strike that is made. And yet the workingmen refuse to learn wisdom.

Secretary Babbitt, of the state agricultural society, has made a change in the speed programme of the state fair, which will be of interest to horsemen. In the "state fair trotting stakes" for foals of 1882, the first horse receives $50 and 40 per cent of the entry money instead of 60 per cent. The fourth horse receives, (of which no mention was made in the first programme) the balance of the entry money remaining after the first three have drawn. In the "free for all" race, September 10th, in which the purse is $800, a change has been made, so that pacers are included with trotters. The society offers $2,000 in purses, and proposes to give Wisconsin horsemen a clear field by limiting the entries to horses owned in Wisconsin by the exhibitor sixty days prior to September 7th.

The annual report submitted at the brewers' convention held in New York this week, showed that during 1884 there were 7,451,777 barrels of ale and lager brewed in the United States. The largest producers were. Phillip Best, Milwaukee, 374,770 barrels; J. Schlitz, Milwaukee, 343,090 barrels; Anheuser-Busch Company, St. Louis, 314,080 barrels; George Ehret, New York, 276,100 barrels; Ballyntyne Brothers, Newark, 258,660; Bergner & Edgel, Philadelphia, 213,020; Frank Jones, Portsmouth, N. H., 200,807; Beadleston & Woerz, New York, 199,030; J. Ruppert, New York, 195,030; W. J. Lemp, St. Louis, 166,150; Peter Doelger, New York, 163,000; Conrad Seipp, Chicago, 157,000 barrels.

What political prohibition has thus far done may be summed up: By methods not only antagonistic, but quarrelsome sometimes even to the borders of scurrility, by misrepresentations that charity alone can attribute to misunderstanding, it has shamed its own prophecies, destroyed its own harmony, depleted its own ranks, vitiated its own laws, defeated the party from which all legislation has come, enthroned the party by which all prohibitory legislation has been opposed. This it can continue to do indefinitely; but no protestation on the part of its leaders, and no delusion on the part of its followers can alter the fact that it is working in the interests of intemperance and not in the interests of temperance.—Gail Hamilton.

Major Burke, director general of the New Orleans exposition, and editor and proprietor of the New Orleans Times-Democrat, has suffered a fate not uncommon to men who exhaust themselves in effort and fortune for the public good. He was the life and soul of the New Orleans exposition; without him there would have been no exposition; he gave his whole labors, his health, his fortune to make it a success, and he has failed.

It is stated that he retires from the director generalship broken in fortune and in health, and that the exposition is his debtor some $150,000, with $200,000 of the congressional appropriation unexpended, because of the provision forbidding its use to pay debt in Louisiana. If this statement is true, the duty of congress will be plain when it meets in December. It should so modify the terms of the last appropriation as to apply the balance to creditors of the exposition in Louisiana, and thus deal some measure of justice to Major Burke. The great trouble with the exposition is, the citizens of New Orleans did not do their duty or fulfil their promises. The amounts pledged were never raised, and beside that it is said that there are 170,000 people in that city who have not visited the exposition and who probably never will. Had the people of New Orleans and the state of Louisiana done their full duty, the exposition would have been more successful, and Major Burke would not have lost his fortune.

Mr. Zachariah Montgomery was, his friends admit, an open-mouthed secessionist during the war. That ought to prevent his appointment to any place under the federal government. A northern secessionist is and will justly remain a peculiarly despicable creature to the public.—New York Herald.

What is the matter with the Herald? It is Mr. Cleveland's pet organ, and to speak out in such a bold fashion about Phelps, McLean, Pillsbury, Chase, Higgins, Montgomery, Blackburn, and others of that "peculiarly despicable" class rather indicates that the Herald is losing its patience. But the Herald must remember that it was "these peculiarly despicable creatures," that put Mr. Cleveland in the presidential chair, and if he should appoint some them to high office it is no more than could be expected from him. Is it possible to expect better things of a democratic administration? Of course not. The men who slandered the flag, who attempted to give a mortal stab to liberty, who tried to spread disease in northern cities during the war, that men, women and children might fall victims thereto, who fought for secession, who cursed the government and extolled slavery, are the men whom the present administration is honoring with offices. It ought not to be so for justice and decency sake, but it is so, and how is the New York Herald going to prevent it? If it is the mouth-piece of the administration let it do some missionary work, and not delay.

A CARD.—To all who are suffering from errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send self-addressed envelope to REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York.

STREWN WITH CORPSES

TEN DEAD GIRLS FOUND ON THE FIFTH FLOOR

Of a Fire-Trap, and Others Leap from the Windows to Death—Terrible Disaster in Cincinnati—Fatal Heroism of a Rescuer.

CINCINNATI, May 22.—One of the most horrible disasters that has ever taken place in this city occurred Thursday afternoon, the result being the loss of nearly a score of lives, nearly all of them being young working girls. About 1:30 p. m. an alarm of fire was given, and by 2 o'clock it had done its deadly work, and half a dozen victims lay mangled and bleeding upon the board pavement where they had fallen in a frantic leap from the burning building, while inside a dozen more were lying in heaps on the floor suffocated.

The building in which the fire originated was at 19 and 21 West Sixth street, and was occupied by Orth, Wessell & Co., as a dye house, Sullivan & Co.'s steam printing works, Parisian Dying and Scouring company, the Ledger Postal News company, and J. R. Kinsley, gold, silver, oroide and nickle plating works.

A moment after the fire was discovered huge volumes of smoke burst from the fifth-story windows of the building, followed by the half smothered shrieks of frightened women who immediately appeared at the windows. Then as they seemed to realize that all escape was cut off, one and fell to the pavement below. Cries of "Hold on!" from below retarded the others for a moment, and then another leaped forth to almost certain death.

As soon as the fire had been located in the printing office, those in the vicinity familiar with the interior of the place first began to realize the awful tragedy that was to be inevitably enacted. The second story contained the presses and machinery, employing about ten men and boys. The third story was the composing-room, while on the fourth and fifth floors were the folding and binding departments.

The fire originated at the hatchway by the elevator on the second floor. A boy had just carried up a can of benzine and set it down at this point when it almost immediately exploded. The burning benzine was thrown over the already greasy woodwork of the elevator and in an instant the fire was drawn up to the fourth and fifth floors. Here were employed fifteen or twenty young girls, and here the concentrated. There was no possible avenue of escape; in the rear and front alike were but two or three narrow windows with no means of leaving the room save down a narrow stairway from floor to floor, and a clumsy elevator running through the center of the building. Every floor was packed with paper, which, together with the light pine woodwork, made rich food for the flames. The fifth floor was also occupied as a folding-room and here, too, were several of the girls employed.

NO ESCAPE WAS POSSIBLE, and even had there been a chance, the fire was so sudden and fierce that the poor victims were obliged to give up their lives without a struggle.

Among the killed is John Sullivan, a nephew of the proprietor, who was on the second floor at the time the fire started. He at once rushed up to the fifth floor to save the women employed there and finding his own escape cut off at the steps set to work to save the women through the windows. Some one had got upon the roof from an adjoining building and threw a large rope down and this the hero clutched, and standing on the window sill shrouded in the

aided two of the women to grasp the rope and let themselves down. Then, seeing that no more pressed forward to be saved, he himself reached out and caught the line and began to descend. He did not live to reap the reward of his bravery. The treacherous flames had scorched the strands, and before he had descended two yards the rope snapped above his hands and he fell with a crash to the sidewalk, to be

MASHED INTO A SHAPELESS MASS.

Josie Hocks, the last girl who came down the rope, is severely burned and was taken to her home.

Chief of the Fire Department Wisbey said: "When I was able to get into the fourth story I had no suspicion of what I should find there. The house is not gutted; in fact the fire was chiefly in the fifth story, and the burning in the fourth story is not considerable. So I didn't expect to meet such a sight as I saw. In the smoke that still filled the fourth floor I counted ten girls lying upon benches, tables and other things, or stretched upon the floor, with not a hair singed. I don't wonder at it, however, as, excepting a hatchway, I was unable to find any way up or down from that floor, although I suppose there must be a stairway.

"IT WAS A TERRIBLE SIGHT

—the worst I ever saw in my experience. They lay in all conceivable positions, where they had lain down or had fallen while wildly moving about in despair."

The following are the killed thus far reported: Tillie Winn; Fannie Jones, aged 22; Lizzie Meyer, aged 16; Kate Lawry; Delia, Kate and Mary Lanban, aged 23, 14 and 16 years, respectively; Kate Punton, aged 22; Mary Punton, aged 19; Lizzie and Dollie Haudel, aged 20, twin sisters; Annie McIntire; Anna Ball, aged 48, a married woman; John Sullivan, aged 22, a nephew of the proprietor of the printing works.

The injured are: Annie Pinchback, of Covington, Ky., seriously burned; Josie Hocks, William P. Bishop, a printer, frightfully burned and crushed, will die; Nannie Shepherd, head badly cut.

Northwest Indians Attack a Supply Train.

WINNIPEG, May 22.—It is the belief that the capture of Riel has not mollified the spirit of the redskins. A courier arrived at Calgary from the vicinity of Edmonton, who brings news that the Indians attacked Maj. Steele, of the mounted police, last week while he, with his force, was escorting a supply train following Col. Smith's battalion west of Fort Pitt. No estimate is given as to the loss on either side. The courier said the Indians were driven back and the supply train escaped unmolested.

Presbyterian General Assembly.

CINCINNATI, May 22.—At the afternoon session of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, the election of a moderator was the only action taken Thursday. After some hours of debate, Rev. E. R. Craven, of Newark, N. J., was chosen to fill that position. The assembly will continue its meetings for two weeks.

Starved Himself to Death.

CLINTON, Ills., May 22.—Samuel C. Nutt, a religious enthusiast, living at Farmer City, Ills., died Thursday afternoon from the effects of a forty days' fast which he imagined the Lord had commanded him to make. Nutt was the editor of a paper called Spirit of the Truth.

Brewers at a Banquet.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The United States Brewers' association at its third day's session passed a resolution asking the commissioner of internal revenue to rescind the order recently issued holding wholesale dealers responsible for internal revenue taxes until the liquor is actually paid for by the retailer. The order, the resolution says, is "an exceedingly severe and uncalled-for blow to the bottle-beer industry and the trade in general, as well as an unnecessary molestation to the revenue tax payer."

At 9 o'clock Thursday evening the delegates to the Brewers' convention and their guests, sat down to a banquet in the large hall of the Lexington Avenue Opera house, which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion. Before the banquet, speeches were made by Henry Clausen, George Ehret and William A. Mias.

The Iron Workers' Wages.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 22.—The threatened strike of iron workers may be averted. The Amalgamated association made a move in that direction Thursday by presenting to the manufacturers' committee a revised scale running the card rate down to 2 cents instead of 2½ as at present, and providing for a reduction of a fraction over 9 per cent. in the puddling and finishing departments. Accompanying the new scale was a request for another conference. The manufacturers' committee promptly agreed to meet them. The meeting will, it is thought, result in an amicable settlement of the wage troubles.

Another Town Ravaged by Forest Fires.

NEWBERRY, Mich., May 23.—The forest fires above this place broke out with renewed fury Wednesday, and along the south side of the Detroit, Mackinac & Marquette they are burning with great fierceness. Back of this the forests are a mass of flames, and eight buildings have already been burned. The town of Dollarville, just beyond here, is burned. A gang of men are out fighting the fires.

YES, SIR.

One can't expect to succeed in business or in pleasure either, for that matter, unless one feels all right in health and spirits. This is the first consideration. Now, its a small matter when this remedy, ZOPE-SA, is recommended so highly even guaranteed to renew one's energy and spirits by invigorating the Liver and aiding Digestion, by clearing the brain, opening the pores of the skin, regulating the bowels and system, to go to the drug store of PRENTICE & EVENSON opposite postoffice, and get a single bottle of Zopesa as a trial. It is a duty every one owes to himself. Try a 25 cent sample bottle. If you suffer from Indigestion, Heart burn or Sick Headache, don't fail to try it. ONE DOSE will relieve you immediately, and one bottle will cure any ordinary case.

"Hub" Cough Cure, the favorite Prescription of a Boston physician, dispensed for years by a Boston druggist. ONE DOSE will cure any ordinary cough. It acts almost magically. Ask Prentice & Evenson for a 50 cent bottle of "Hub" Cough Cure. It acts so quickly as to astonish you.

They all do it. Everybody uses "TEABERRY" for the teeth and breath, the newest, brightest, cosest little toilet gem extant. Prentice & Evenson, opposite postoffice.

A Statue to Frank P. Blair.

ST. LOUIS, May 22.—The magnificent bronze statue of Frank P. Blair was unveiled in Forest park Thursday. The flag which veiled the face of the statue was lifted by Mrs. Christiana Graham, his daughter, in the presence of 15,000 persons. Among those present were Governor Marmaduke, ex-Governor Koonar, of Illinois, Mayor Francis, and several state officials. The speech in commemoration of the event was made by the Hon. P. L. Foy, president of the Blair Monument association. Mayor Francis, Governor Marmaduke, Col. Gantt, and Maj. Rawlins, of the United States army, also spoke, all referring to Blair as they had known him in life. After the speeches a regular military salute was fired by a detail of United States military.

Pennsylvania Congressional Apportionment.

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 22.—The Pennsylvania legislature has passed a congressional apportionment bill which gives the Republicans eighteen and the Democrats eight districts, while two are virtually Democratic, but considered debatable. One of them has been represented for years by Congressman Brumm, who has been elected because of his Greenback proclivities. Philadelphia is given six instead of five districts as now. Ex-Speaker Randall's district is left strongly Democratic. All the other Philadelphia districts are surely Republican.

'REPAIRS' ARE COSTLY.

SECRETARY WHITNEY ON RECONSTRUCTION OF WOODEN SHIPS.

A Case Where Continuous "Repairs" Cost as Much for One Vessel as Three New Ships—Soldiers in Office —National Items.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—Secretary Whitney has convened a board of five naval officers to meet at the Mare Island navy yard and inquire into the manner in which repairs to vessels have been made at that yard. In his letter to Commodore Russell, commandant of the yard, informing him of this action, the secretary says:

In the line of the suggestions contained in my letter to you of April 15, I have made such investigations as my limited time would permit into the expenditures made at the Mare Island navy yard of late years, for the purpose of satisfying myself as to its condition as a place for the efficient performance of public work. Taking certain lines of inquiry as tests, I am compelled to express the greatest astonishment at the results indicated. The steamship Mohican was taken out of commission in the year '72. Since that time she has remained in the Mare Island yard undergoing reconstruction, including the substitution of new machinery for the old. She is now substantially ready for sea, and within the next sixty days will re-enter the service. From the accounts of this department it appears that there has been spent on her in the Mare Island yard $845,000 which, with further amounts hereafter likely to come in, will raise her total expenditures to about $900,000; and this upon a wooden vessel of about 1,900 tons displacement. More than two-thirds of this has been spent within the last three years. For the fact that she is of a class now obsolete as an effective weapon of war, and substantially worthless, the yard can not be held responsible. But that this reconstruction in the Mare Island yard has cost the government at least three times what a new ship of the same character and class could have been built for does certainly indicate the most extraordinary mismanagement and wastefulness. Similar indications appear to me in the case of partial repairs and replacements made upon other vessels, not necessary to comment upon in detail.

It may be said that the economy or lack of economy with which repairs are conducted is, in general, a thing difficult to prove. But circumstances like those exhibited in the case of the Mohican are entirely incapable of explanation except upon the ground that either through a fault of system, or for some other reason the public money spent in the Mare Island yard, is, in the main, thrown away.

Secretary Whitney has also directed the officers responsible for repairs to the Omaha to explain how so large a sum as $500,000 was expended on repairs to that vessel in the Portsmouth (N. H.) navy yard.

Soldiers in the Civil Service.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—A delegation representing the Grand Army of the Republic of the department of Pennsylvania, and the Veterans' Rights union called on the president, Secretary Manning, and Gen. Black, commissioner of patents, Thursday, in the interest of the enforcement of the laws relating to the appointment and retention of ex-soldiers in the civil service of the United States. Mr. Cleveland said that he recognized the claims of the old soldiers upon the government, but it was impossible for him to give his attention to individual cases. He promised to give immediate attention to any violations of the laws in question which should be brought to his attention. The delegation called Secretary Manning's attention specially to the removal of the assistant custodian of the Philadelphia postoffice building, an ex-soldier, and the appointment of a civilian to succeed him. Mr. Manning said that the department would respect the laws in question: that the spirit of those laws met with his hearty approval; but, he added, that ex-Union soldiers who have been offensively partisan should not expect to be retained in office. They took their chances in the last presidential election. There were a great many honorably discharged Union soldiers and sailors who were Democrats and who had never been recognized in the distribution of offices in the last twenty years. The claims of these men would be recognized by the department in filling vacancies made by removals for offensive partisanship.

The Boys Are Getting There.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—The president has made the following appointments: To be collectors of internal revenue: William C. Thompson, for the Second district of Iowa, and Byron W. Webster, for the Third district of Iowa. To be collector of customs: Robert M. T. Hunter, for the district of Tappahannock, Va. To be surveyor of customs: Daniel O. Barr, in the district of Pittsburg, Pa. To be attorneys of the United States: Henry C. Allen, for the western district of Virginia; Cyrenius P. Black, for the eastern district of Michigan. To be marshal of the United States: Albert C. Gibson, for the district of Louisiana. To be postmasters: L. W. Caldwell, at Warrenton, Va.; William H. Ritenour, at Harrisburg, Va.; John A. R. Varner, at Lexington, Va.; George R. Head, at Leesburg, Va.; A. P. Bibb, at the University of Virginia; Bruce R. Gibson, at Winchester, Va.; Mrs. Mary H. Long, at Charlottsville, Va., reappointed; D. V. O'Leary, at Albany, N. Y. The above suspensions of postmasters were nearly all made on account of "offensive partisanship."

Didn't Like Those Logan Guns.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—Many complaints have been made by citizens, who were disturbed by the firing of the Logan salute, which occurred between 2 and 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, and the commissioners have called upon Maj. Dye, the superintendent of police, to know who was responsible for the firing at such an unseemly hour. The complaints are based upon the ground that the salute at such an hour was "against all law and order."

Hill Makes Some Alleged Revelations.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—Ex-Senator Hill, of Colorado, has returned to Washington for the purpose of inviting the attention of the administration to alleged irregularities and frauds in the interior department occuring under Secretary Teller's regime. He charges that these frauds were committed in the interest of certain personal friends of ex-Secretary Teller, and the revelations, which have been laid before Secretary Lamar, are said to be of a startling character.

Plan to Retire Our Jolly Tars.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 22.—Commodore Schley has under consideration a plan for the retirement of sailors as an inducement for men to enter upon long and continuous naval service. His plan is to retire sailors in the navy upon three-quarters pay after thirty years continuous service.

NOTHING IS SETTLED.

England and Russia Not Making Much Progress—Foreign Notes.

LONDON, May 22.—The Morning Post claims to have learned that the stoppage of the guards at Alexandria on their homeward passage from Suakim was not due to a hitch in the negotiations with Russia, but to the discovery by Sir Evelyn Baring that there was to be an outbreak of the natives in Cairo, fomented by the French political agents, with the object of affording a pretext for landing French troops from transports now cruising along the coast. The article creates a decided sensation.

It is stated that Prince Bismarck is urging England to limit her operations in Egypt to a protectorate of Egypt proper, and the control of the finances, and to join with Germany in developing eastern Africa by colonization.

Concerning Turkey, Mr. Gladstone said in the house of commons that England had communications with the porte in regard to Suakim, but none with any other power. "Nothing is yet settled," said Mr. Gladstone, "in regard to arbitration between England and Russia, nor has it been absolutely settled who shall be the arbitrator."

Replying to numerous criticisms of the government's policy and charges of withholding information, Mr. Gladstone retorted that he feared he had already given too much information. He warned the members against making utterances and criticisms which tended to strengthen the hands of the Russian war party.

In the house of lords the earl of Kimberly, secretary for India, denied that Russia demanded to have an agent at Cabul or required England not to interfere with affairs in Afghanistan.

Hugo on His Deathbed.

PARIS, May 22.—The conversation of Victor Hugo, as he lies on his deathbed, refers almost entirely to the scenes of his childhood, which seem to revive in his mind as more recent impressions fade. When he talks during periods of delirium he invariably speaks in Spanish, and his recollections seem to be of the early boyhood days which he spent in Spain, and which formed a particularly romantic and delightful part of his life. When his mind is clear he surprises the friends who surround him by the clearness of his mental vision and the calmness with which he speaks of his approaching end.

LONDON, May 22.—Late dispatches from Paris state that Victor Hugo is sinking rapidly.

Gladstone's Retirement.

LONDON, May 22.—The report that Mr. Gladstone has decided to retire from public life is made more creditable than this often-revived rumor would otherwise be by circumstances and by the conduct of the prime minister's friends. The Liberal leaders have already chosen a candidate for the Midlothian district. This would indicate either that they know that Mr. Gladstone has determined to retire before the fall election, or that they are arranging to have him stand for some other constituency. The latter is most probable.

Too Tolerant of Conspirators.

LONDON, May 22.—Dispatches from Vienna indicate some ill-feeling against England in official circles. Count von Taafe, president of the ministry, is reported to have said for publication recently: "London is the great center for the printing of revolutionary literature circulated on the continent. Until England becomes less tolerant toward alien conspirators she should not expect any reciprocal action from the United States toward crushing out the anarchism of the dynamiters who are giving her so much trouble."

Having Trouble with the Crimes Act.

LONDON, May 22.—The Daily News confirms the reports of serious differences of opinion in the cabinet in respect to the renewal of the crimes act, and says that Sir Charles Dilke and Mr. Chamberlain persist in withholding their assent to the measure.

The Conservatives have decided not to oppose the Irish land purchase bill. It is understood that the Parnellites will still oppose the renewal of the crimes act in spite of the government's concessions as to land purchase.

Bartholdi's Statue In En Route.

ROUEN, May 22.—The war steamer Isere with Bartholdi's statue of liberty sailed Thursday for New York. The departure was the occasion for a demonstration, all the civil and military authorities of the city being present on the pier to witness the embarkation. The Isere is not a fast vessel, and the statue will probably not reach New York until after June 1.

Keene's Blue Grass Third.

LONDON, May 22.—The race for the great northern handicap took place Thursday, and was won by Chiselhurst, with Londonderry second, and Mr. J. R. Keene's Blue Grass third.

CAIRO, May 22.—Gen. Lord Wolseley arrived here Friday morning.

Unfortunate Miles City.

MILES CITY, Mon., May 22.—Fire destroyed about $50,000 worth of business property here Thursday night, taking a block on Main street, between North Fifth and Sixth streets, excepting Sherburne's general merchandise store, which was damaged. It also took the northwest corner of the same street up to, but not including, Leighton, Jordan & Co.'s wholesale merchandise store, and the southeast corner of the same streets from the First National bank, which was damaged to the extent of $3,000, around to Bach & Heblis' buildings on North Fifth street, near Bridge street.

There was no material damage outside of the above described district. The insurance is only moderate. The Stock-Growers' National bank was slightly damaged. Leighton, Jordan & Co.'s wholesale store is safe.

Reorganizing a Telegraph Company.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A scheme for the reorganization of the Postal Telegraph company has been submitted to the holders of its defaulted bonds. The plan provides for the exchange of $3,500 new stock for each $10,000 of such bonds, to be surrendered to the company and canceled; also for the issue of two and a half shares of new stock in exchange for each 100 shares of old. It is understood that if these terms are accepted Mr. Mackay will furnish the additional capital required to enable the company to carry out its proposed extension.

And Farmer's Buggies, also Perry Pat'd Driving Cart.

We wish to call special attention to my new Buggy Top, which is a new invention and entirely does away with the front bow; making it easy to enter or leave the vehicle; also forming a dash when down, which prevents the lining of the front part of the carriage from getting soiled. My prices shall be as low as the lowest for good work. Call and examine my stock before purchasing elsewhere.

JUSTICE IN HASTE.

A COUPLE OF BAD CITIZENS KNOW WHAT THAT MEANS.

An Ohio Mob Sends Satan a Guest and the Daily Colored Lynching Comes Off—Plot in a Prison—Assorted Sin.

NEW STRAITSVILLE, Ohio, May 22.—Marshal Henry Auer and Albert Guest quarreled here Thursday. It is not yet known what the trouble was about. One report is that the marshal was about to serve a warrant on Guest; another is that a dispute of the previous evening was renewed. High words passed between the two men. Suddenly Guest opened fire. Auer was shot several times, and can not recover. One bullet missed the marshal and hit an 11-year-old boy who was standing fifty yards away. The bullet passed through the boy's body and injured his spine. He will also die. Having emptied his revolver, Guest reloaded and attempted to escape, firing on two detectives who followed. He finally surrendered and was placed in jail. Throughout the afternoon there were rumors of a determination among the citizens to lynch Guest. At 10 o'clock 200 masked men made their appearance at the jail, and with drawn revolvers compelled the jailer to give up his prisoner. Guest was dragged outside of town to a place near the Plumber Hill mine, where he was swung up to a tree. While the wretched murderer was writhing and twisting in the air a volley from many revolvers was fired into his body, and the lynchers dispersed.

GLOSTER, Miss., May 23.—Mell Sims, a colored railroad laborer, murdered a negro woman named Clara Johnson Monday night and was lodged in the calaboose. Last night a party of railroad laborers took Sims out of jail and carrying him to a railroad bridge hanged him to one of the stringers. It is believed that Sims assaulted the woman after the murder. He is suspected to be the man who made a murderous assault upon a woman at Baton Rouge a few days ago.

Attempt to Wreck an Express Train.

TOLEDO, Ohio, May 22.—A dastardly attempt was made Wednesday night to wreck the limited express train No. 4, on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, at this place by obstructing the track with ties a short distance east of the tunnel. The express train was due here at 10 o'clock. A yard engine took the track about fifteen minutes ahead of the express, and started east through the tunnel, intending to reach the yard ahead of the express. The engine run slowly and as it pulled out at the last end the engineer saw the ties lying across the rails. He had barely time to reverse the lever before the engine was almost on top of the obstructions. At this point the vision of the trainmen is dimmed at night by the train coming suddenly from the darkness into the glare of the switch lights, and objects can not be seen distinctly for a few moments. Had the express run at its usual rate of speed through the tunnel, a terrible accident could hardly have been averted.

Bloody Fight with Thieves.

BURTON, Ohio, May 22.—About 1 o'clock Wednesday night thieves were heard in the store-room of J. R. Conner, near the center of the town, by a clerk who slept upstairs. The clerk escaped by a window and aroused Mr. Conner and his son. The three returned to the store and rushed in on the thieves four in number. A desperate fight followed, in which a score of shots were fired by each side. Finally three of the robbers made a rush for the door and disappeared. It was then ascertained that one of the thieves was dead and Conner fatally wounded. The clerk, Hiram Edwards, recieved a slight flesh wound. The safe had been opened and over $2,000 taken. Part of the money belonged to a disabled soldier, who had just received it as a pension. There is no clew to the robbers, except a letter in the pocket of the dead man addressed to H. L. Adams, and postmarked Detroit.

Parish Prisoners Plotting Insurrection.

NEW ORLEANS, May 22.—A plot was discovered Thursday morning to blow open the doors of the parish prison and release the prisoners. A gang of ten prisoners, headed by one McIntyre, a New Mexican desperado, had secured several pounds of powder and succeeded in filling the locks of the cell and entrance doors, intending to explode the charges at a given signal, assassinate the keepers and escape. One of the gang weakened, however, and informed Sheriff Butler of the plot. The scheming prisoners were at once separated and put in the strongest cells in the prison.

An Example for Other Cases.

PITTSBURG, May 22.—Franco Babbett, a young Bohemian, 16 years of age, Thursday shot and instantly killed a little girl named Lippick, 4 years of age. He then fired a bullet into his own brain and fell dead. It is now supposed that the first shooting was accidental, and that being filled with fear and remorse he killed himself. There were no witnesses to the tragedy.

Hanlan Home Again.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—Edward Hanlan, the famous oarsman, arrived from Australia by steamer Thursday. He looks well. He is enthusiastic over the hospitality of the Australians and will go back next year with a four-oared crew, probably Ross, Toomer, Peterson and Conley. He says Beach is the greatest man in the world and invincible.

The President's Summer Residence.

MAN'S INHUMANITY.

AN EARLY MORNING TOUR BY MR. BERGH'S OFFICERS.

Looking After the Physical Welfare of the Animals of the Great City—Incidents of Interest—A Word in Season.

[New York Herald.]

The vast majority of the population of the metropolis is asleep when, at half-past 3 a. m., the stable gate of the society's building is thrown open, and "Old Gray," he pressed to the red four-wheeled business wagon, with the official seal on the side, darts into the street. Superintendent Charles Hankinson hold the reins, and accompanying him are three of his officers. They are on their early morning tour of the great city to ferret out and stop the cruelties of man to animals of every kind. "Old Gray" knows the route, and, striking one of the great East side avenues, turns his head northward and speeds along in the direction of the Harlem bridge. As the wagon nears the car-stables it is stopped. A car comes rumbling on with a half-awake driver and a limping team of old "plugs."

"Stop!" cries the superintendent to the driver.

"What for?" is the sleepy reply.

"Those horses are lame. You'll have to turn them out and take them back to the car stables."

"Well, boss," says the driver, who, from being often lame and sick himself and yet compelled to work, has a sympathetic feeling for the poor horses, "I've been lookin' out for you and, to tell the truth, I'm glad I've met you. I didn't want to go out with them. I'll take them back."

A little further on an ill-natured fellow is caught whacking his famished-looking horse over the head with savage earnestness. Scarcely before he knows of their presence the society's officers have wrested the whip from his uplifted hand, and before they part from him they give him emphatic warning not to repeat his act of cruelty. The saloons are by this time opening, and the bartenders are out on the sidewalks sweeping broken glass into the streets. "Old Gray" is reined in in front of the foremost of the offenders. The man has just completed his sweeping.

"Do you know that there is a lot of broken glass in that rubbish?" asked the superintendent.

"I guess so," indifferently.

"You'll have to pick the glass out of the street and throw it elsewhere!"

The bartender would much rather fight than undertake the task, but he looks first at the official seal and then at the four officers, and finally, with many mutterings, does as he is bidden. All the other offenders are treated in the same determined manner. Some of them understand the meaning of the law; the majority do not know what to make of it at all. The superintendent has driven away from the last of these indignant dispensers of liquor whom his attention is attracted to a "plug ugly" who is strolling along the street with a dog with almost as little claims to good looks as himself. An unfortunate cat crosses their path. "Sick 'em," cries the plug ugly. The dog dashes after tabby. His master is in the hight of his enjoyment over the imminent risk that the cat runs of being overtaken and ill-treated, when some one grabs him by the coat-collar. He turns around in astonishment and is face to face with the officers.

"Call back that dog," says the superintendent.

Plug ugly takes in the situation at a glance and whistled for the brute, who returns to his side.

"Now, take that dog under your charge," says the officer, "and don't let me find you cat-hunting again."

In the distance a string of dirt and contractor's carts is seen. There are about a dozen men on them. Suddenly all of the carts become driverless.

"The've caught sight of the gray," cries the superintendent.

When the red wagon arrives alongside of the carts the horses are found to be suffering from sore backs. They are taken to the nearest stable and left there, subject to the society's order.

At Harlem bridge a number of expressmen are encountered. They have got out their working stock of lame and diseased horses, and are hurrying them across the river at this early hour to avoid coming in contact with Mr. Bergh's officers. Surprised at their tricks, they reluctantly return, at the superintendent's command, to their stables.

Across the bridge a caravan of farmers carrying vegetables to market is met. Three out of every four have broken-winded horses. They are all turned back.

"But my team has come from t'other end of Westchester," urges one of the more obstinate of the number.

"You cannot go to market with them," is the reply. "Next time set out with a good team and you will fare better."

The red wagon rattles over the west side of town, and once more is making its way through the the thickly-populated streets. Truckman after truckman is caught, either beating his horse or driving a disabled animal. The whip is snatched from him, or the poor brute is taken away. At Franklin street, where the stock comes in, a longer stop than usual is made. Calves and sheep are, by order of the officers, fed and watered. In Washington market the calves that are on their way to the slaughter-houses are, if crowded, taken out and the load lessened. The licensed venders in this and Gansevoort markets are overhauled, and every one of their horses is examined to find out if it is in good condition. If any sores are discovered the venders are made to shift the saddles so that they will not come in contact with the sores.

The red wagon, when it arrives at the postoffice building, remains there long enough for the officers to alight and look at all the horses in the service. If any animal is unfit for work it is sent to the nearest stable, and before the mail can be carried to its destination fresh horses have to be procured.

By this time the superintendent has quite a collection of whips, and has met with many piteous appeals from New Jersey and Long Island farmers who have been half frightened to death at their encounter with him, not knowing whether their offense was punishable by simple arrest or whether they are liable to be hanged for it.

The officers' work is not yet ended. At the fish markets if they find turtles tied by the fins they compel the dealers to untie them. They see that fowls are properly housed, and if overcrowded on wagons extra coops are secured and the fowls watered and fed. It is not an unfrequent occurrence for rude men to urge their dogs to bite the pats which accompany ladies through the streets. These officers put a stop to this pastime also.

Criticising Michigan Cuisine.

[Puck.]

A Michigan paper with considerable display publishes a recipe for a "meatless tomato soup." This ought to be easy. All you have to do is to leave meat out; but let some one try a tomatoless tomato soup if he wants to earn a name for himself.

Prentice & Evenson will refund the price paid if Acker's Blood Elixir does not relieve any skin or blood disorder. A new, but thoroughly tested discovery.

Out of Tune.

When the tones of a musical instrument become harsh and discordant, we say it is "out of tune." The same may be said of that far more wonderful and complicated piece of mechanism, the human structure, when it becomes disordered. Not only actual disease, but those far more common causes, overwork, mental anxiety, and fast living, may impair its vigor and activity. The best remedy for a partial collapse of the vital energies, from these as from other sources is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is at the same time an agreeable and mind cheering cordial, and the best possible invigorant in all cases of debility. It is an incomparable stomachic and anti-bilious medicine, eradicates fever and ague, and prevents subsequent attacks. It remedies with certainty and thoroughness, bowel and kidney complaints, dyspepsia, nervousness, rheumatic troubles, neuralgia, and many other bodily ailments. It also counteracts influences which predispose to disease.

Back on the Administration.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Senator Beck passed through the city Thursday night and said of Cleveland's administration that it was meeting with the approval of all good Democrats. Cleveland had shown himself to be a man of sterling ability. He thought the president would go slow in his appointments, and be careful to put in the best men without regard to favoritism. He thought the president had not appointed James Blackburn because he did not want to be influenced by relations. The charge of nepotism could not be brought to his door. He knew the president was doing what was right, but all these changes could not be brought about in a few days.

When asked about the election of Logan, the senator said: "Oh, well; Morrison could not get it, and I had rather see John Logan elected than any other Republican I know of. He is not one of your mugwumps or independents, but a straightforward stalwart, and the kind of a man I like."

Vest's Defiance of the Press.

ST. LOUIS, May 22.—Upon being approached by a reporter of a local newspaper in this city Wednesday, Senator Vest said, "I don't care to say anything to a newspaper man; d—n the newspapers; I've got no use for them, and you needn't try to interview me. I don't want to appear in the newspapers, but, anyway, I don't care a d—n what they say. I don't blame you fellows who write the interviews and are trying to make a living out of that kind of work (with a sneer of supreme contempt), but, as a whole, I've got no use for the newspapers, d—n them. I'm glad to meet and know you personally," said he, "but the newspapers have been jumping on me right along, and now, d—n them, let them make the best of it."

Mustn't Desecrate the Common.

BOSTON, May 22.—The Rev. Dr. A. J. Gordon, pastor of the Clarendon Street Baptist church; Mr. H. L. Hastings, a well-known publisher of religious works, and about a dozen others, were arrested Wednesday for holding a religious service on the common on Sunday afternoon last. The police say they violated a city ordinance in making such use of the common. The church people declare that they will hold meetings as usual next Sunday and thereafter, and the police say that they will arrest any man who opens his mouth to address a crowd on the common on Sunday.

Wanted to See "Old Jim Blaine."

NEW YORK, May 22.—Col. Rockwell, brother-in-law of James A. Garfield, delivered a lecture here Thursday night. He traced the life of President Garfield from boyhood, and dwelt particularly on the president's latter days. He paid a tribute to Mrs. Garfield for her bravery during the last ordeal. Col. Rockwell said that the dying man was very anxious to see his cabinet, but it was forbidden by the doctors. Among the last remarks Garfield made was this: "I would very much like to see old Jim Blaine."

Mackin and Gallagher.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Judges Harlan and Gresham have disagreed on the question of granting a writ of error in the case of Mackin and Gallagher, convicted of fraud in connection with the election last November and the case will go to the supreme court. It is thought that an arrangement can be made by which the case will be taken up immediately upon the convening of the court in October next.

Bail was fixed at $50,000 for each of the accused men.

—The funeral of little George Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson, was held this morning at the home of the parents, 56 Center avenue, and after the brief services at the home the remains of the little one were taken to Oak Hill for interment.

—The funeral of the late Stephen Toole, the man found dead at his home on South Main street yesterday morning, took place at St. Mary's church at 8 o'clock this morning, Rev. Father Rosche conducting the service. The remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

—Mr. R. L. Colvin, at the "Boston Bakery" has just received a choice stock of oranges, lemons, pineapples and bananas and the choicest stock of fancy groceries to be found in the city. Mr. Colvin intends to keep a complete assortment of these goods on hand at all times for the accommodation of all customers.

—One good thing for the street commissioner to do, would be to clean up the loose stone that now incumber many of the streets of the city. In many of the streets the stones have not been cleared in many years and it is quite annoying to those riding about the city to be continually jolted over such useless obstructions. Let them be removed.

—The state association of druggists meet in this city the second Tuesday in August, holding a three days' meeting. It is expected that a large number of druggists will be here from all parts of the state. The druggists of this city will hold a meeting this evening to make arrangements for the assembling of so large a number of the business men of the state.

—The east side fire steamer tested thirty-eight lengths of old hose last evening, and of that number of lengths fourteen were bursted under a water pressure of 145, 100, 130, 135, 140, 130, 180, 120, 140, 120, 165, 120, 135, and 135 pounds. The average pressure is below that put upon the hose while doing good fire duty. The average pressure sustained by the bursted lengths was 142½ pounds.

—Captain Alexander Buchholz will open the pleasure grounds at Popo's Springs, on Thursday, May 28th. Among the attractions will be a public picnic in the afternoon and a dance in the evening at which the Arion band will furnish the music. Captain Buchholz's steamer will leave her dock at the head of Main street at two o'clock on that day for the springs, making trips every hour during the afternoon and evening. The grounds will be in first-class order for the accommodation of the public.

—The family of City Treasurer Blount came near giving the fire department a call yesterday. One of the members of the family was heating some alcohol over a gas jet, the gas heated the liquid a little too hot, and it took fire and for a moment it was a question as to which would prove master of the household, the burning alcohol or the lady in charge. The lady, however, finally succeeded in winning a victory and subdued the incipient blaze, but not until she had severely burned her hands and thoroughly frightened the rest of the household.

—Parties who have examined the plank under the Nicholson pavement blocks on West Milwaukee street, where the gas men are now repairing a defective pipe, state that the plank are as sound as they were the day they were put down, and they are of the opinion that all the plank are in a like good condition. This being the case the cost of repaving the street will be greatly reduced. Many of the property owners are anxious to go ahead with the improvement and have it completed during the dull season of "harvest time."

—The twenty-first annual session of the Homoeopathic Medical society of the state of Wisconsin, will be held in the parlors of the Myers house, this city, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 26th and 27th, 1885. An interesting programme has been arranged for the meeting, including some able papers by the different M. D's. of the association. On Tuesday evening there will be an address of welcome by Mayor Winans, and an address by the president. Other interesting proceedings are upon the programme, of which the public will be notified and cordially invited to attend.

—The Janesville boys last evening received a very flattering testimonial to the reputation which they have made for themselves as polosts. A tournament is to be organized at Racine, in which the four best clubs of Wisconsin and Illinois are to enter, and the captain of the Racine club invited the Riversides to take part in the contest, as their playing gives them the right to be considered "one of the finest." The invitation has not yet been accepted, but will be if the boys can possibly get away, and they will do their best to keep up the name of the city. If they go they will have some of the finest clubs in the northwest to play against, as the others invited are the Le Grands, of Chicago; and the Milwaukees, besides the home club at Racine.

—Mr. Herman Buchholz, the carriage builder at the corner of East Milwaukee and Bluff streets, has just completed one of the finest busses ever seen in this city. This "beauty" is intended for Mr. Johnson, the proprietor of the Park house, formerly the Pember, and will be used for the accommodation of the guests of that hotel. While the 'buss is not quite as large as some, it is finished throughout in a manner that would be a credit to any maker in the country. Mr. Buchholz has already manufactured many handsome busses and waggonets, which he has shipped to all parts of the United States, but we think this vehicle is a little ahead of any yet sent out from his popular establishment.

—Mr. Addelhart Horn died at his home on North Main street, this city, at half-past one o'clock this morning, aged sixty-nine years. The deceased came to this city direct from Prussia, in 1853, and commenced the work of watch-repairer, at which occupation he continued to the time of his death. His wife died about a year and a half ago, but six children—five sons and one daughter—survive to mourn the death of a kind father. He was a hard-working and industrious man, and his kind disposition to all with whom he came in contact, won for him their lasting friendship, and they will now join in extending their sympathy to the surviving members of the family. The funeral will be held at All Souls church on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. G. W. Lawrence conducting the services.

—A commercial man was in the city on Tuesday evening, and while in one of our business houses, the conversation turned upon the fire of that afternoon, in the course of which the Chicago man took occasion to remark that the Chicago fire department could discount the world in turning out to an alarm of fire "why," said he, "they will get into the street in seven seconds from the tap of bell." Our Janesville business man, who had been around a little, wiped the prespiration from his brow and said: "You ought to see our boys turn out' they will get a block away from their engine house befor the bell taps and I don't believe the Chicago department can hold a candle for them. Why, no watch has yet been made that is quick enough to catch our boys." The Chicago men set up the cigars and proceeded to speak of the excellent quality of his goods.

—Grand Commander Davidson, of the G. A. R. of this state has issued an address, in regard to Decoration day, which is now in the hands of the various posts throughout Wisconsin. He says "Let the day be observed by this department as one of the sacred duties enjoined on us by the teachings of our noble order, and our hearts unite in paying tribute to the memory of our noble dead, by strewing on the graves of our comrades gone before, one of heaven's choicest gifts to man,—sweet spring flowers. Of the 400,000 who fell in the heroic period from 1861 to 1865, as well as those who have gone since, let not one grave be missed; no, not even those heroes who sleep in unnumbered but not forgotten graves in the tangled thicket, on the rocky mountain side, or by the stream where they fell, but let every grave be an altar of patriotism. It is recommended that all posts arrange for a memorial service in some church on Sunday, the 24th, and that posts attend in a body."

—A full blood Jersey calf, that was being shipped by express, made quite a little sport for the men around the depot just before the 12:20 train came in this noon. The usually sweet temper of the animal had been stirred up by the ride in the express wagon, and when the boys started to slide the rack out onto the baggage truck, she did her best to help them along. She kicked one piece of the frame, just southwest of the blind institute, another piece went towards the Catholic cemetery, and one slat struck the conductor of the express wagon across the side of his head. It nearly knocked him off the platform, but he controlled his feelings and handed the animal just as tenderly as if she had been a load of hay. Afterwards, however, he said if he had been the prodigal son he would have had every calf on the place killed, whether it was fat or not, and that if he helped lift any more live stock around he was going to have hold of the front end of the box or else wear a bird cage over his head.

—He who is farmer residing on Washington street in the first ward, and this year he determined to devote the greater portion of his real estate to raising tobacco. Accordingly, as soon as the frost was out of the ground he prepared a plant-bed according to his own knowledge and put in the seed. As time flew by he kept daily watch of the plant-bed; days and finally weeks passed and with the "naked eye" he was unable to discover any semblance of tobacco plants above the ground, but the bed appeared to be alive with weeds. His friends told him that his eye sight was failing him that he must get a pair of powerful spectacles and examine his plant-bed with great care and pull out the weeds or the plants would be killed. He acted on this gratuitous advice, and straightway called upon a popular west side optician and informed him what was wanted. The optician and a neighboring groceryman concluded they would play a trick on the city granger, so they took pains to help the farmer select a pair of glasses just suited to his age and occupation. In doing up the "specs" the optician carefully removed the glasses and put the empty case in the man's hands, and the happy granger departed to examine his plant-bed. He returned this morning remarking that he could not see as well with the glasses as with the naked eye, and asked to change them for a stronger pair. His wish was willingly granted, and the same performance had as before. He returned to examine his plant-bed this afternoon and further developements are expected to take place soon after supper this evening, and if there is not some crape attached to the doors of the grocery house or the optician's place of business to-morrow morning, we will have greator faith in the power of the old man to control his wrath.

Court Notes.

The circuit court is still occupied by the case of Bradly against Cramer. The arguments began this afternoon about half past two, and the case will probably go to the jury to-day.

In the municipal court this afternoon, Charles Hilt was convited of the burglary of James Ryans' saloon, on West Milwaukee street, and was sentenced to six months hard labor in the county jail.

POLO AT THE RINK.

A Large Audience Witness The Game Between The Racine And Janesville Clubs.

The Home Club Win The Victory By a Score of 2 to 0.

An Exciting Contest.

The result of the polo game last night was not just what was expected. Our men thought that the game would be a walkaway for Racine, but they didn't appreciate the good which their practice during the past week, has done them. The whistle blew at a few minutes past nine, and the visitors, willing to take anything that came along, gathered the ball in out of the wet and started it for the wire minnow net that formed a background for the Janesville boys. This was not just the way it was intended to go, so the home boys turned the ball around and succeeded in keeping it near the other goal most of the time until Joe Whiting took it out of a scrimmage, and put it in the wire net belonging to the visitors, almost before they knew it was gone. The time of this goal was nine minutes and seven seconds, with the time for the various stops taken out, and the Riversides began to feel better, thinking that if they could get one point in so short a time, they could at least make the game a draw, with a chance for something better. The second rush was also won by the Racines who showed throughout the game that they were quicker and surer on their skates than their opponents were, although the others played a more scientific game. But here again the Riversides took the ball away, and after nine minutes and twenty-eight seconds of very close and exciting playing the ball was put past the Lakeside goal guards by Whiting assisted by Wyler. After that, no goals were made and at the end of the thirty minutes the score stood 2 to 0 in favor of Janesville.

Many of the regular Racine men were used up, from the hard playing, during the first part of the week, and their places were taken by others, the teams as they played being composed of the following men:

Lakesides—Captain H. J. Rogers, half back; Robert Richards, goal; Walter Driver, cover point; John Rowlands, point; Allen Northrop and Charles Smith, 1st and 2d rushers.

Riversides—Captain J. B. Whiting, Jr., point; Ed. Griswold, goal. Dr. P. Smith, Jr., half back; Arthur Kent, cover point; Abe Wyler and Martin Hanson, 1st and 2d rushers.

W. F. Dearborn, of Beloit, was referee; and H. F. Tyrell, of Racine, time keeper.

The Janesville boys showed more science on the floor; the Racines playing more active game, all of their men, the goal guards excepted, following the ball wherever it went; and while the Janesvilles left but one man in goal, with a cover point some distance off the visitors never had less than two near by. This is a scheme which they picked up very lately, one they learned from the LeGrands of Chicago during the game at Racine last Tuesday, and while it is very successful when there is much fighting around the goal, yet in stopping very swift balls the two men are liable to get in each others way.

The game was full of fine plays on both sides, but those deserving special mention were Northrop, Driver and Richards in the Lakesides; Griswold Whiting and Smith of the Riversides. Griswold especially made some very fine stops, one of his plays, being called by the Racine visitors the finest they had ever seen.

The audience present was the larges ever in the rink, the Cheney benefit excepted, many people from Racine and Beloit coming in, "to see the Janesville boys get whitewashed," one of them said.

Most of the visitors left on the 11:10 train last night, leaving the impression that they were the most gentlemanly body of young men who have visited the city in some time, and it is to be hoped that another game can be arranged with them in the near future, to decide which is the best club.

Evangelical Convention.

The subjects before the convention which assembled in Court Street M. E. church yesterday afternoon were, "Successful work among the young," by Mr. B. F. Daniwiddie, and "Am I my brother's keeper?" by Colonel N. Smith. Both of these subjects were well treated and drew out much interesting discussion. In the evening Rev. Dr. Hodge spoke upon the "Place of prayer in Christian endeavor." He said that a man who wanted to help the world should first help himself, and in order to help himself he needed some help from God, therefore prayer for help was necessary. If the greatest Israelite leaders felt the need of prayer; if Paul, one of the most liberal minded men of the age needed prayer; if Jesus Christ, the being who could perform miracles in his own home, needed prayer, how much more must we need it. There are three places where prayer is needed; when commencing anything, during the progress of any work, and at the end of anything; in fact pray all the time; don't go where you think it would not be consistent to offer up a prayer.

Rev. A. J. Van Wagner then spoke upon the "Claims of Christ on man." Many people believe that they are freemen, under no obligation to anyone. But hasn't Lincoln by his wisdom, his patriotism and his martyrdom laid some claim for love and respect upon the American people. And Washington, has he no claim upon the people, for his heroic bravery, and self-sacrifice. If those men have claims upon us, how much stronger a claim has Christ. His descent from heaven to earth, his life of poverty, his perils and privations, and greatest of all, his death on the cross, have surely given him a very strong hold on the whole human race.

"Sweet Violets."

Five hundred bunches, 3 dozen in each bunch) to be given away to-morrow (Saturday) at the New York Saving Store. We want as many as possible of lady friends to call to-morrow. We intend making it a memorable day in every respect. Why? Because we enjoy a crowd; we like to see our store filled and overflowing, even to the point of discomfort. It makes us good natured. At such times we want to give away something, and as picture cards and chromos are played out, it occurred to us that a bunch of fresh spring violets might be acceptable to the ladies as well as appropriate to the season. 50 cents is all you have to buy to get a bunch. We would give them away without any limitation, only we fear we should have so many applications that the supply might give out before ten o'clock to-morrow night. But we mean to offer something more substantial as well. What you get for nothing is merely a "side dish." We do you the most good when we take your money.

We want to say a word in referring to some special bargains which we shall offer to-morrow: First, in the millinery department, we mean to sell every trimmed hat and bonnet now on hand—close them all out and start fresh Monday morning. One-third off the price of every trimmed hat in our store; thus, 32 hats, $1.33; 33 hats at $2; $4 hats at $2.67, &c. Flowers—10 boxes assorted sprays and wreaths—choice, 15 cents; three dozen buttercups for 25 cents; two dozen dasies for 63 cents; and 500 assorted sprays, wreaths, clusters, &c, at almost one-half the prices asked by other stores.

In the usual sense of the word every article in our store is a bargain in itself—but to-morrow we mean to beat even our own record. Please note the following: One case ladies' gauze vests, opera finish at 15 cents. One case better grade silk band and stitched—37½ cents. One lot assorted hose, fancy stripes and solid colors, all full regular made, ladies' and ceildren's sizes, and gents' fancy half hose, choice of the lot—25 cents—actual value 35 to 75 cents. Oriental flouncing, 8 to 10 inches wide, new patterns, 38 and 45 cents. Antique linen laces and insertions, 12½ to 25 cents, sold formerly at just double the money. One lot, 25 assorted styles, lace splashers, tidies, shams etc., choice for 25 cents—worth 38 to 50 cents. 25 Venetian isle thread gloves, new colors and black 10 button length, silk points, price to-morrow 25 cents. You have paid 40 cents for the same glove. Silk mitts black 10 cents a pair, new colors, pure silk lace mitts 40c pair; pure spun silk 8 button Jersey gloves, 75c, value $1.00, other gloves at 10c, 15c, 18c, 20c, up to $1.00. Bargains in lace caps for children's wear 15c, 20c, 25c, and up. Bargains in corsets—the Daisy, 25c; Dr. Balls', $1.00 and twenty-five other styles. Bargains in ribbons, handkerchiefs, buttons, neckwear, muslin underwear, etc. Lots of muslin underwear, good cloth and well made at 25c. Special lot of muslin skirts, best cloth, finest workmanship, and elaborately embroidered at $1.25 and $1.50, worth $2.00 and $2.50. We hope every lady who reads this will honor us by her presence to-morrow. If not to buy at least to help swell the crowd. We mean to do our best to entertain our lady patrons in a manner creditable to ourselves and advantageous to all. To-morrow there will be a "field-day", all are invited, from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m.

RIEL AN AMERICAN CITIZEN.

Provisions of Canadian Law in Cases of His Kind.

TORONTO, May 22.—A dispatch from Fort Boniface, Manitoba, gives the particulars regarding Riel's citizenship of the United States. It says Riel took an active part in Montana elections in 1882, or early in 1883, and was obliged to flee to Canada on account of having induced several half-breeds to vote, though they had not the necessary qualifications. The Mail, commenting on the dispatch, says: "The question of citizenship being thus settled, Riel's case will be determined under the act which provides that any person, a citizen or subject, of any foreign state, who takes up arms against her majesty in Canada, or commits an act of hostility therein, such foreign state being at peace with her majesty, is liable to suffer death, and the governor may order the assembling of a militia general court-martial for the trial of such person, agreeably to the militia laws in force, and upon being found guilty by such court-martial, such person shall be sentenced to suffer death or such other punishment as shall be awarded by the court." This is regarded as significant coming from the leading government organ.

The Medical Record on Gen. Grant.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The Medical Record says: "During the week Gen. Grant has been in a comparatively comfortable condition. The swelling under the angle of the jaw on the right side has increased in size; the glands are still indurated and deeply fixed; there is a tendency toward diffused infiltration into the adjoining tissues of the upper and anterior portions of the neck, consequently some rigidity of the jaws, preventing the wide opening of the mouth. The palatal curtain is somewhat swollen, but the destructive processes at the side of the uvula have not markedly extended. No change has been noted in the appearances of the right tonsillar region nor in those of the posterior part of the pharynx. The ulceration on the right side of the base of the tongue shows a tendency to extend backward, is more excavated, and has an elevated and indurated border."

Gen. Grant slept five hours Wednesday night. Thursday he felt very bright, and has dictated some matter for his book. At 1:30 p. m. he went out for a drive.

Great Discovery.

Mr. Wm. Thomas, of Newton, Ia., says: "My wife has been seriously affected with a cough for twenty-five years, and this spring more severely than ever before. She had used many remedies without relief, and being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery, did so, with most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved him very much, and the second bottle has absolutely cured her. She has not had so good head for thirty years."
